

20th Georgetown
University Transatlantic Policy Symposium

CALL FOR PAPERS

DIVIDED EUROPE?

Straining the Limits of Unity

February 19, 2016 | Washington, D.C.

The 2016 Transatlantic Policy Symposium will bring together established experts in the transatlantic community with the upcoming generation of thinkers to discuss challenges related to the European project. We are seeking papers that address the various issues facing Europe today.

*How might internal and external forces determine the future of European unity?
What challenges does Europe face, and how do they affect the EU today and in the future?*

Deadline for submission: TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 5:00 PM EST.

Submissions should be made via email to: Submissions@TAPSGeorgetown.com

Submission Requirements:

Submissions should be 750-1500 words and formatted as a policy memo or policy-oriented paper.

Papers must be in English. References may be in any format but should be consistent.

Please include a CV or Resume, in English, via the TAPS submission form.

Participation is limited to currently enrolled Master's and Doctoral candidates.

The BMW Center for German and European Studies will contribute to travel expenses for select panelists.

Questions? Consult our website for further details:

www.TAPSGeorgetown.com

This event is funded by the BMW Center for German and European Studies with support from the following organizations:

DAAD

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst
German Academic Exchange Service